Salvation Army is “Doing the Most Good” for community

Angel Tree

By Ken Thurman
Warren/Frederick County Report

The Salvation Army in Front Royal continues to “Do the Most Good” throughout our community.

The season kicked off with the annual Kettle campaign on November 23rd and continues right up to Christmas Eve.

I personally look forward to the bell ringing every year.

Next up was the Army’s Thanksgiving dinner at the Baptist Church Fellowship Hall on November 27. Over 170 meals were served to those in need. Leftovers were shared with the Baptist Church’s programs and the local men’s shelter.

Another great program is the Angel Tree. This year the Army has over 470 children signed up to receive presents this Christmas who might not otherwise be able to get gifts. Presents can be dropped off until December 23rd when distribution at the Royal Plaza location near Martins will take place from 8 a.m. until completed.

The Army also has several ongoing programs like the Boys and Girls Club. This program provides children from K-1 to 8th grade after school activities hosted at E. Wilson Morrison Elementary School. Currently they have 56 students enrolled. Justine Duncan, the program coordinator, has set up activities that help students with their homework, introduce them to science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM) as well as Project Lean which teaches them problem solving.

Looking for a bargain? Check out the Family Store and talk to Misty and Kaylee. They can point you in the right direction. The store features a wide variety of merchandise.

Of course, the Army also has church services that include Sunday School from 10:00-10:45 a.m. and church services from 11:00 a.m. until noon.

Major Sheed Tarnue has recently become the Army’s leader in Front Royal and I have found him to be a wonderful person to work with on a variety of projects.

So, look for kettles and drop in that spare change or dollar at Walmart in Front Royal and Luray, Big Lots in Front Royal, and Royal Plaza near Martin’s. This year you can also find counter kettles at multiple area businesses.

Volunteers are always needed. To find out more about how you can help, about the programs of the Army, or if you find yourself or loved ones in need of food, clothing, financial services or need a place for fellowship, support and a sense of belonging to the community, you can stop by the Family Store at 296 South Street which is open Monday – Saturday (10 a.m.-3 p.m.) or visit the Corps Community Center located at 357 Cloud Street Monday – Friday (closed Wednesday). Major Sheed Tarnue and the helpful staff, like Mattie their admin and social worker can be reached at (540) 635-4020 or you can visit them at <http://virginiasalvationarmy.org/frontroyalva/> or on Facebook at <https://www.facebook.com/salvationarmy-frontroyal>

Front Royal Salvation Army Thrift Store has a new look

Local artist Whitney Waller was spotted painting her Bear-themed mural, surrounded by Bluebells on the front of Front Royal's Salvation Army Thrift Store on 296 South Street. Courtesy of Justin Proctor

By Carol Ballard
Warren/Frederick County Report

Salvation Army Captain Ann Hawk is proud of the renovation and new Bear mural on the front of their Thrift Store.

She had been contacted about the renovation of the Front Royal store on 296 South Street by Justin Proctor, who wanted to make it and entryways to the town more beautiful.

"The project for renovation would not have been possible without him, and we did a fundraising," she said. "One donor gave half of the money for the project."

Proctor organized the GoFundMe page especially for the Bears and Bluebells mural after he found a contractor, Howard Isenberg of Howards Havens, who renovated the outside of the store.

And Proctor found a local artist, Whitney Waller, who agreed to create it.

Captain Hawk said that one of Proctor's (many community improvements!) concerns is that the town's entryways give people a nice view when they come here and that he had been working on the beautification issue for at least two years.

"The store had to be restored outside, and I was stunned," remarked Hawk. "Now I have a sense of pride because when I moved here the Salvation Army Thrift Store looked pretty bad. It's on the main road and people see it when they pass by."

These bears have found themselves outside the local Salvation Army Thrift Store, soon to be surrounded by Bluebells.

The parking lot area was enhanced by large planters painted by Randolph-Macon Academy art students, and planted with Crepe Myrtle trees. Dead bushes were removed around the parking lot and mulched to clean up the grounds a little bit.

The Bear Mural is in the process of completion, with adult and baby bears and Bluebell flowers representing the Shenandoah Valley area.

"I think I need just one more really good solid warm weather day to get it all wrapped and tightened up," said Whitney Waller when she was contacted. "The line work is not all finished, so I need to go in and draw in the actual Bluebells, so there's a little more work on that. The flowers themselves are going to be in color but the rest of the plants will be the same grayscale as the bears are."

The work is her own design, but local artist Chris Stephens is helping her install the mural and often collaborates on some of her other projects.

"In the design process we wanted a few things that just touched on that local aspect so that's why we have the bears and Bluebells," she noted. "On Sunday I got like five hours and really pushed it along so that felt great. I guess it's worth mentioning that whenever I'm out there I've been getting a lot of pleasant interactions with people that pass through the area, and from people in the neighborhood. Other people who were driving by pulled in with their vehicles just to look at it, so you know it seems like a good thing."

Captain Hawk had more information about the place the thrift store holds and its contribution to the good of local folks.

"The goal of the thrift store is to help generate money for our programs and to get the highest value," she began. "We put the money back to help people pay rent, utilities, and food. We use it to get food for the food pantry and we rely on donations. The money raised in the community stays in the community and helps it."

She offered some information about a little of her background.

"I've been with the Salvation Army for 12 1/2 years and in Front Royal for 3 1/2 years," she began. "Before this I was the Division Finance Secretary (a CFO) in Arkansas and Oklahoma, and here I preached and did the Boys and Girls Club."

"I'm really originally from Georgia. The Salvation Army people move around depending on the needs of a community in increments of three to five years. I've been to North Carolina, Texas and Oklahoma. I really liked Oklahoma because of the connections I had with the people, also I enjoyed being the administrator there and got to travel."

"But it was very windy and I had to

HOROSCOPES

ARIES – Mar 21/Apr 20
 Aries, a special person in your life deserves all of your attention. Romance might be on your mind, and you'll look forward to all of the time you can spend together.
 TAURUS – Apr 21/May 21
 You may feel artistically inspired this week, Taurus. Explore projects like home improvements or crafting. There are many things to try.
 GEMINI – May 22/Jun 21
 Your attendance at a wedding or another special event could have your thoughts moving in a romantic direction, Gemini. Maybe you're thinking of taking your relationship to another level?
 CANCER – Jun 22/Jul 22
 Cancer, forge ahead in your efforts if you aspire to learn a new skill or take on a different project. This might involve meeting new and interesting people. Expand your social network.
 LEO – Jul 23/Aug 23
 Leo, it is important to put others first this week, particularly your spouse or romantic partner. You don't want any hurt feelings circulating right now.
 VIRGO – Aug 24/Sept 22
 An unexpected visitor might come your way in the next few days, Virgo. This could require overhauling your schedule and even space in your home to make room.
 LIBRA – Sept 23/Oct 23
 Family and friends will have a difficult time changing your mind once you have taken a stance, Libra. You have dug in your heels on this topic.
 SCORPIO – Oct 24/Nov 22
 Scorpio, new work assignments or additional business may complicate matters in the days ahead. That can be great during times of year when spending can get out of control.
 SAGITTARIUS – Nov 23/Dec 21
 As you prepare for the colder temperatures, holistic arts, acupuncture, herbs, and therapies might be on your mind, Sagittarius. You don't want to be sick this go-around.
 CAPRICORN – Dec 22/Jan 20
 Capricorn, you will try to meet the demands of your need for information this week. Chances are you'll be reading the newspaper and news outlets as much as you can.
 AQUARIUS – Jan 21/Feb 18
 You cannot gain traction right now, Aquarius. Perhaps you haven't met the right people yet? Keep your eyes and ears open for new opportunities.
 PISCES – Feb 19/Mar 20
 Pisces, if a career change has been on your mind, the new year might be a chance to get those gears moving in the right direction.

GUESS WHO ?

I am a comedic actor born in Canada on December 17, 1946. In high school I used humorous campaign posters to win the student council race. I've worked alongside fellow Canadians and am known for my thick eyebrows and glasses. My most iconic role was as an awkward dad in a movie about teenagers and virginity.

Hamrick's Sudoku!

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle! (Answer in back.)

Choco is a 2 yr old male American Staffordshire Terrier who is extremely sweet and friendly. Unfortunately he ended up at the shelter with his friend Ginger, after their beloved owner passed away. Choco misses his dad very much and would love to find a family to love him just as much as his dad did. He is good with other dogs, seems very interested in kitties and would do great with kids but may knock down small ones as he is a beef cake.

Little Khloe is 7-9 year old Dachshund mix who is full of love to give. She is looking for a home where she can be the only dog but is okay with cat friends who leave her be. She would prefer older kids as she is old lady who doesn't want to be pulled and tugged on by children. She is great on leash and is quite a mellow girl.

LEMON CUPCAKES ARE ON THE MENU

- Lemon Drizzle Cupcakes
 Makes 12
- Cupcakes:
 150 grams (1/2 cup) butter or baking spread
 150 grams (1/2 cup) caster sugar
 3 eggs
 150 grams (1 cup) self-raising flour
 Zest of 1 lemon
- Drizzle:
 Juice of 2 lemons
 75 grams (5/2 tablespoons) caster sugar
- Lemon Buttercream:
 150 grams (1/2 cup) unsalted butter, at room temperature
 300 grams (2 1/4 cups) icing sugar
 Juice of 1/2 lemon
 Sprinkles
 Lemon zest

Preheat the oven to 180 C (350 F) and get 12 cupcake cases (liners) ready. Beat the butter with the sugar until light and fluffy. Add the eggs, self-raising flour and lemon zest and mix until combined. Spoon the mix evenly into the cupcake cases (liners) and bake for 18 to 22 minutes until they are baked through and springy to the touch.

Mix together the lemon juice and sugar for the drizzle in a bowl. Once the cupcakes are out of the oven, carefully spoon the drizzle over the cupcakes, then leave them to cool fully on a wire rack while you make the buttercream.

Beat the butter until smooth; this can take a couple of minutes. Add the icing sugar in two batches, beating well after each addition, then add the lemon juice and beat again.

Pipe or spread the buttercream onto your cupcakes, then sprinkle each one with some sprinkles and lemon zest.

Cupcakes are handheld treats that can make any celebration even more spectacular. If guests expect the standard flavors of chocolate, vanilla or even red velvet, change things up with a sunny surprise: lemon!

Enjoy this recipe for "Lemon Drizzle Cupcakes" from "Jane's Patisserie" (Sourcebooks) by Jane Dunn. Anything with sweet drizzle is a hit, and these cupcakes deliver plenty of lemony flavor in every bite.

Note: Imperial measurements were approximated from the metric and may not be exact. Using a food scale set to grams and weighing ingredients will produce the most authentic version of this recipe.

'Tis the season, and you know what that means?

Grandma gets taken out by a reindeer and the Grinch grows a heart.

And don't forget about all those Hallmark Channel movies.

Did you know they've been on since mid-October?

The Hallmark Channel is showing more than 30 new holiday movies this year alone.

I had no idea there were that many.

Last year I wanted to watch every one.

I quickly realized that wasn't gonna happen.

They're like your traditional Thanksgiving day dinner.

You might swap out a new side dish from one year to the next, but the menu is mostly the same.

Boy meets girl.

Boy and girl may not even like each other.

At first.

But that starts to change.

And at the end of the final scene, they kiss.

Ahhhhhh.

The actors may change, but not the fake snow or the happy ending.

Last week one of my friends wrote that she and her husband were watching one.

Her very first.

Ever!

She wasn't impressed.

They changed the channel within the first 30 minutes.

I get that.

I've done the same thing.

But like the boy and girl whose feelings for each other start to change, so have mine.

For some reason, and I don't know why, I like them.

I even went online and found Hallmark Channel's Countdown to Christmas list.

Ask Stewart

Hey Stewart,

Read any good books lately?

– Melody

I picked up "The Serviceberry: Abundance and Reciprocity in the Natural World" by Robin Wall Kimmerer the other day, expecting to learn about a tree (which I did), and I also ended up with a new perspective on life.

Kimmerer describes the Serviceberry's role in nature as a part of a "gift economy" where plants, insects and animals give freely of their gifts and expect nothing in return. The Serviceberry receives nutrients from the soil and rain and provides nectar to pollinators and berries for the birds. Everything is interdependent and everyone gets what they need.

Kimmerer says this gift economy theory could be used to make our world a better place to live. Give freely of what you have and expect nothing in return. Her examples:

"buy nothing groups" and Little Free Libraries. She also notes that in times of crisis and disaster people are always willing to help and donate freely.

A research scholar in the Brazilian rainforest noted that when a hunter brought home more food than his family could eat, he did not preserve it for later. Instead, he hosted a feast for the community, saying, "I store my meat in the belly of my brother."

Kimmerer also addresses the urge to save as much as you can for bad times, saying that if we all shared our excess, the world would have enough for everyone. At only 100 pages "The Serviceberry" is a quick and positive read, which will give you an insight into the tree and the hope for a better world.

Your Pal in the Trees,

– Stewart

The Front Royal/Warren County Tree Steward program began in 1997 with volunteers dedicated to improving the health of trees by providing educational programs, tree planting and care demonstrations, and tree maintenance throughout the community. The group now consists of over 30 active members with several interns working toward becoming certified tree stewards from our annual "All About Trees Class". Each month Stewart will answer a question from our readers. Please forward it to "Stewart" in care of: frwctreestewards@comcast.net and we may publish it in a future issue. Mark Gunderman

EDITOR:

Bulbar onset ALS is a type of amyotrophic lateral sclerosis (ALS) that affects the muscles in the face, neck, and throat. Symptoms include slurred speech, difficulty swallowing, weakness in the face, atrophy in the tongue, and excessive choking. There is a rapid disease progression, with paralysis leading to death from respiratory failure. Palliative care and working with a multidisciplinary team of healthcare professionals can help preserve quality of life.

After eight days of extensive blood and muscle testing, a spinal tap, and multiple MRIs, I was diagnosed with Bulbar ALS at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore on July 18. Bulbar ALS is a cruel, fast spreading, and devastating disease.

My wife and daughter worked diligently to get me the resources necessary to combat this debilitating illness. When I was accepted to reside in the CLC A/Lighthouse Hospice Unit (33 miles from home), my family breathed a sigh of relief, knowing they could finally relax because I would be receiving excellent hospice care.

I entered the Martinsburg VA Medical Center, Community Living Center, CLC A/Lighthouse Hospice Unit on November 4. The following remarks of appreciation are passed with respect to my experience as a patient.

The doctors and nurses at the CLC are committed to making quality end-of-life care available to individuals and families facing serious illness. The staff believes that the final stages of a person's life should be lived with the greatest degree of comfort, and dignity. The hospice allows me to be in control of my own life by remaining as independent as possible in making decisions. The staff honor patient, and family choices, and address the individual needs of those they serve. Management of pain and symptoms are addressed and closely monitored so patients live as fully and comfortably as possible in an end-of-life scenario.

I do not consider Hospice as a last resort. The CLC promotes a home-like environment with residents allowed to have their own furniture, radio, and wall hangings. Bulbar ALS is a progressively terminal illness without a cure; however, CLC hospice professionals have methods to control pain, reduce anxiety, offer spiritual and emotional support, and improve my quality of life.

I appreciate the skilled physical, occupational, and speech therapists, the nutritionist, and recreation and facilities representatives. All are reassuring and helpful in their competence, sensitivity, and caring support. The caregivers who bathe, shave, dress, and arrange my meals, go above and beyond to make me feel comfortable with loving hearts and hands. I am grateful for the opportunity to be taken to Sunday worship service and Monday Bible Study.

It is the people in this hospice unit who have fostered this beautiful atmosphere, people who have committed their lives to helping and loving others, allowing the sick to maintain their minds, dignity, and self-worth. I truly believe that the treatment I am receiving from the CLC has assisted in relieving my families physical and emotional stress.

I am giving thanks to God for calling and empowering such wonderful people to perform this crucial vocation.

There is no such thing as too much communication...

REC Named Large Business of 2024 by Culpeper Chamber

Rappahannock Electric Cooperative (REC) has been honored as the Large Business of the Year at the Culpeper Chamber of Commerce's 110th Annual Meeting & Awards Banquet on Nov. 7.

The prestigious event celebrates community achievements and recognizes businesses and individuals making a difference in Culpeper. REC stood out for its exceptional contributions to the community and unwavering commitment to service.

A nominator for the award highlighted REC's dedication, stating: "REC exemplifies what it means to be a community-focused business. Their dedication to supporting local nonprofits is evident through the thousands of dollars in grants and donations they provide each year. Beyond financial contributions, REC sends its staff to volunteer at various community events and initiatives, further strengthening their commitment to service."

REC supports the community in a variety of impactful ways. The cooperative takes a customer-first approach by offering flexible bill payment options to support its members' financial stability. For employees, REC fosters growth and professional development.

REC also leads efforts in education and sustainability, delivering programs that teach businesses and individuals how to save money while adopting environmentally conscious practices. The cooperative is working to expand broadband access in rural areas, ensuring greater connectivity for underserved communities.

In addition, REC champions diversity and inclusion by encouraging young women to explore careers as line workers and pursue STEM-related fields, paving the way for a more equitable future.

Jeff Henry, REC's Director of Member Services and Community Relations, expressed the significance of the award for the team.

"Many of our employees live right here in the Culpeper area," he shared. "This recognition by the Chamber means so much to us, as it reflects our collective efforts to serve and support the communities we call home."

REC provides electric service to 180,000 connections in parts of 22 Virginia counties. With its general office in Fredericksburg, Va., the Cooperative operates and maintains more than 18,000 miles of power lines through its service area, which ranges from the Blue Ridge Mountains to the tidal waters of the Chesapeake Bay. Fatal Crash in Fauquier County Virginia State Police is investigating a two-vehicle fatal crash in Fauquier County. The crash occurred Friday (Dec. 6), at 12:10 p.m. on Route 17 (Winchester Rd), a tenth of a mile south of Route 55 (John Marshall Hwy).

A 1999 Dodge Ram was traveling south on Route 17 when it crossed the centerline and collided head-on with a northbound 2019 Ford F-150.

The driver of the Dodge, Frankie L. Fincham, 60, of Winchester, Va., died at the scene. He was not wearing a seatbelt.

The driver of the Ford, a 45-year-old male from Silver Spring, Md., was not injured in the crash. He was wearing a seatbelt.

A medical emergency is considered a factor in the crash.

The crash remains under investigation.

Fatal Crash in Page County

Virginia State Police is investigating a single-vehicle fatal crash in Page County. The crash occurred Sunday (Dec. 1), at 12:05 p.m. at the intersection of W. Main Street and Leakesville Road.

A 2007 Honda Odyssey was traveling north on Leakesville Road when it failed to stop at a stop sign, continued through the intersection, ran off the roadway, struck a fence, and collided with a tree.

The driver of the Honda, Ralph E. Janes, 83, of Luray, Va., suffered life-threatening injuries and was transported to Page Memorial Hospital, where he later succumbed to his injuries. He was wearing a seatbelt.

A medical emergency is considered a factor in the crash.

The crash remains under investigation.

Fatal Crash in Warren County

Virginia State Police is investigating a single-vehicle fatal crash in Warren County. The crash occurred Thursday (Nov. 28), at 1:25 a.m. on the 3600 block of Reliance Road.

A 2010 Kawasaki side-by-side was traveling on private property when it attempted to drive up an embankment and overturned.

The driver of the Kawasaki, Daniel B. Bolt, 50, of Middletown, Va., suffered life-threatening injuries and was transported to Warren Memorial Hospital, where he later succumbed to his injuries.

A passenger in the Kawasaki, a 29-year-old male, suffered minor injuries but refused medical treatment on scene.

The side-by-side was not equipped with seatbelts.

Alcohol is considered a factor in the crash.

The crash remains under investigation.

Fatal Crash in Clarke County

Virginia State Police is investigating a two-vehicle fatal crash in Clarke County. The crash occurred on Tuesday (Nov. 26), at 8:15 a.m. at the intersection of Route 7 (Harry Byrd Hwy) and Chilly Hollow Road.

A 2016 Ford F-150 was traveling west on Route 7 when it turned left into a crossover. As the Ford crossed the eastbound lanes of Route 7, it pulled into the path of an eastbound 2012 Ford F-150. The 2012 Ford could not avoid striking the 2016 Ford in its side.

The driver of the 2016 Ford, John

U. Miller Jr., 88, of Berryville, Va., suffered life-threatening injuries and was transported to Winchester Medical Center, where he later succumbed to his injuries. He was not wearing a seatbelt.

The driver of the 2012 Ford, a 43-year-old male from Charles Town, WV., suffered minor injuries and was transported to Winchester Medical Center for treatment. He was not wearing a seatbelt.

The crash remains under investigation.

Applications Open for FRWRC 2025 Dare to Dream Grants

The Front Royal Women's Resource Center (FRWRC) is now accepting applications for the 2025 Dare to Dream Enrichment Grants, which provide up to $1,000 to help women in Warren County turn their dreams into reality. Past recipients have used these grants to start businesses, further their education, purchase equipment, and more.

In partnership with the Warren Memorial Hospital Foundation, up to three additional grants of $1,000 each will be awarded to women pursuing education or training in healthcare or related fields. Applicants must be 18 or older and live or work in Warren County. The deadline to apply is December 30, 2024.

Since 1999, the FRWRC has awarded nearly 200 grants totaling $150,000, empowering local women to achieve their goals and make a difference in their communities. Applications are available at frwrc.org/dare-to-dream. For more information, visit frwrc.org.

Warren Coalition Thanks Community for Support

The Warren Coalition set an ambitious goal for its 30th Anniversary: to raise $30,000 in 30 days, in honor of their 30 years of service. For a nonprofit experienced in fundraising, this might not seem like a challenge. But the Coalition, which is primarily funded by federal grants, had never embarked on such an endeavor before. Plus, it came on the heels of obtaining sponsors for Celebrate Kids Day and the pitch burst fundraiser, neither of which factored into that $30,000 goal. Several other local nonprofits also had significant, one-time fundraising campaigns going on.

Nevertheless, the courageous staff at the Coalition took on the goal with enthusiasm and endless optimism, along with the assistance of Coalition member Holly Goode and community member Lisa Parker. Though there were many challenges—such as two hurricanes that significantly impacted the US, and illnesses that kept the staff from engaging in person-to-person fundraising as much as they had planned—there were moments of high hope as well, particularly when an anonymous donor stepped in to offer a $20,000 matching gift and Valley Health Warren Memorial Hospital came through with a $5,000 Difference Maker gift. Altogether, the community successfully met the challenge of raising $30,000 in 30 days!

“We appreciate every person who made a gift, whatever the size,” said Executive Director Christa Shifflett. “Through our programs, we touch the lives of nearly every person in Warren County. The support we received during our 30 for 30 campaign is reflective of that.”

The Coalition would like to thank the following individuals and organizations for their support of the 30 for 30 campaign. An asterisk (*) indicates Foundational Sponsors and Supporters—those who made a 30 for 30 gift or commitment prior to the kick-off on September 29th:

 “Thank you to all of our sponsors and supporters for helping us to continue our work in Warren County, to partner for a more resilient, drug-free community,” Shifflett said.

Warren Coalition, celebrating 30 years of service to Warren County, is a nonprofit agency established in 1994 to help fill the gaps in health care and substance abuse awareness to the community. The Coalition began under the guidance of Warren Memorial Hospital as an outreach project, but it has since grown and was incorporated in 2001. The office is currently located in the Warren County Community Center. Their mission is to make Warren County a safe, healthy, and drug free community through many programs and in collaboration with 15+ member agencies.
